QUESTION OF THE WEEK: FIRST READING: Amos 7:12-15: 1. How do you feel about rejection? Can you think of any prophet who didn't experience rejection? They chased Amos out of Bethel. When you think something needs to be done that makes everyone uncomfortable? What are some situations today that need prophets? What do you do? Are you willing to take on the job? 2. Amos points out that he had been a shepherd and it wasn't his idea to be a prophet anyway. Are education, occupation, eloquence, talent or intelligence prerequisites for a prophet? Then what is necessary? If you were called to be a prophet, would you be as reluctant as Amos was? Would you be willing to leave your comfort zone? Anne Osdieck at St. Louis University.
